

Welcome Page

- The welcome page displays three images next to each other with a navigation bar at the top and a footer(<footer>) which consists of a copyright. The navigation bar is enclosed in a (<header>) tag which uses the <nav> tag which holds the <ul> which holds the <li> of image links .
- The nav bar was modified using css (list-style-type: none) to make the lists appear inline. And I used (text-decoration: none) to remove the underline from the hyperlinks.
- I used css to modify the three images, by making the image (text-align: center) and adding a border with a border-radius: 5%
- For the mobile view I used css (display: flex) inside the body with (margin: 0) to keep the images centered and (flex-direction: column) to make the pictures appear under each other when scrolling.
- The design of the entire webpage has four colors. #86A788 for the header and footer, #FFFDEC for the body , #FFE2E2 and #FFCFCF for borders, or text backgrounds.

I Love Flowers

My name is Iyobosa Queensly Osayantin, known as Iyo. I was born in Benin City, Nigeria in the year 1999. As a seven year old, I moved to Austria, and at the age of 23, I realised that I loved creating bouquets. I started by just putting few pieces of tulips together until I discovered the rest. Ever since, I've created various types of bouquets for different types of occasions, which you are welcome to check out in "My Work". I am currently a student and create bouquets for fun.

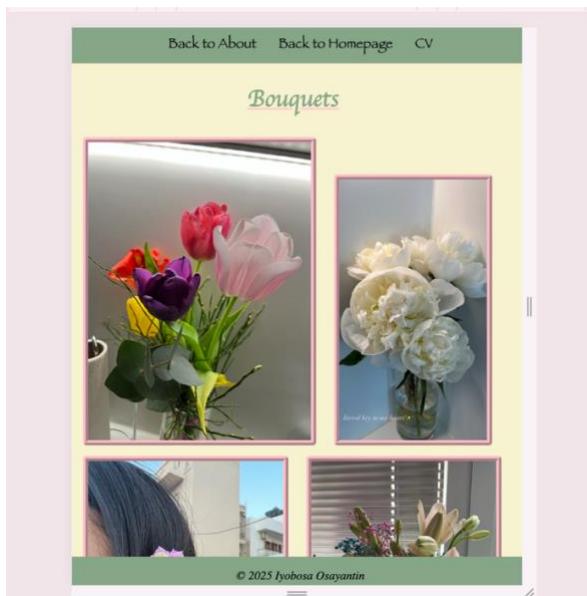

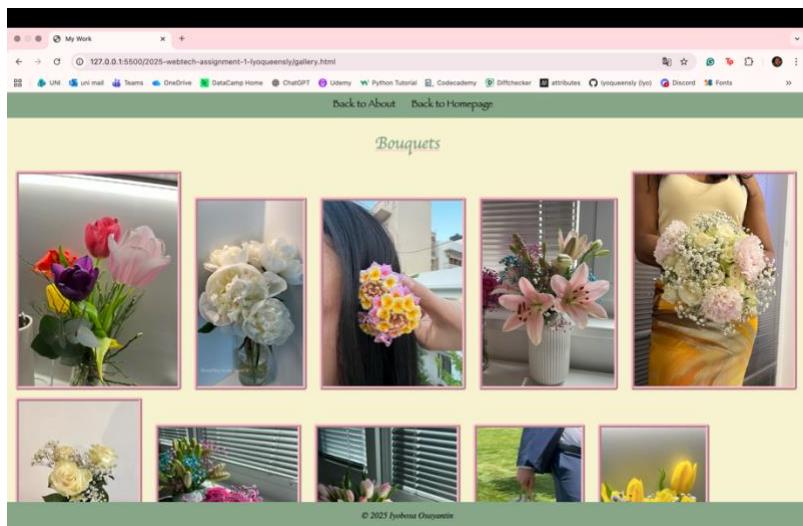

I do not have many hobbies, I just love reading books, preferably psychological or philosophical ones. Music makes me extremely happy, especially classical ones, so I listen to them a lot. I don't mind other genres either, as long as it sounds good, I will add it to my playlists. Not many people like studying, but I do. Learning about new things excite me no matter how difficult they get, I am quite headstrong and believe I can do anything I put my mind to. Which is why I tend to open up a flower shop when I retire from the tech industry. Hopefully by then, I get to learn how to make the most beautiful bouquets and put smiles on peoples faces and add some of natures beauty to their spaces. My absolute favourite thing to do is give people presents. It is delightful to see them happy because of me.

This website was created to share my passion with you. To show you that flowers make life better. I hope you have as much fun looking through it as much as I had creating it. For further questions, please fill out the form on the last page of this site, the link is on the Homepage. This picture to your right was captured at disneyland and when I saw this artwork, I obviously could not resist.

CV

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the title bar 'My CV'. The address bar displays the URL '127.0.0.1:5500/2025-webtech-assignment-1-iyobosaosayantin/cv.html'. The page content includes a header with three links: 'Back to Homepage', 'Back to My Work', and 'Contact Form'. Below the header is a section for 'Iyobosa Osayantin' featuring a profile picture. A 'Contact' section follows, containing a phone number (+43 688 64 219303) and an email address (iyobosa.osayantin@gmail.com). - The main has one <h1> and five <h2>. The first two <h2> consist of  , one having <img> and the other just a summary. The other <h2> consist of <ul> which contain <li> which contain <ul> for nesting purposes.
- The footer only holds the copyright.
- Css was used to center the entire content of the cv by setting (margin: 80px). The <hr> were also modified with css adding a (background-color: pink, height: 2px, border-color: pink)

- I used (display: flex) to keep the content centered for the mobile view.

The mobile view of the CV page shows the content centered within a white box. At the top is a green header bar with three links: 'Back to Homepage', 'Back to My Work', and 'Contact Form'. Below the header is a section for 'Iyobosa Osayantin' with a profile picture. - The <main> has one <section> which holds a <form> which holds four  for each <label> and <input>. The last  contains a <fieldset> for user decision.
- I used css (display: flex and flex-direction: colum) to make achieve the mobile view.

The screenshot shows a contact form titled "Contact Form". At the top, there is a message: "Please fill out the form for bookings". Below this are three input fields: "Enter your name:" with a text input field, "Enter your E-mail-Address:" with a text input field, and "Enter your phone number:" with a text input field. At the bottom of the form is a section titled "How do you wish to be contacted?" containing two radio buttons: "Per E-Mail" and "Per Telephone". The footer of the page includes links "Back to My Work" and "Back to Homepage".

This screenshot shows the same contact form as the previous one, but it appears to be a different version or a later state. The layout is similar, with the title "Contact Form", the booking message, and the three input fields. However, the "How do you wish to be contacted?" section is now enclosed in a separate box with a border. The footer still includes the "Back to My Work" and "Back to Homepage" links.
